

Tutti Horn - Iceland Symphony Orchestra

Iceland Symphony Orchestra announces an open position of Tutti Horn.

An audition will take place on 21 February, 2026, at Harpa Concert Hall, Reykjavík.

Application deadline is 10 January 2026.

Applications

A formal application form is not required; applications should be submitted by email, including a CV and copies of diplomas and sent to the Human Resources Director at starf@sinfonia.is.

Audition Repertoire

Solo works

Hermann Neuling – Bagatelle.

1st mov. from Mozart K. 417 or 1st. mov. from Mozart K. 495.

Please note that candidates are required to choose either Mozart K. 417 or K. 495.

Orchestral excerpts

Orchestral excerpts, with indicated passages to be played can be accessed on the Symphony's website:

<https://en.sinfonia.is/news/position-of-tutti-horn-3>

About the position

This is a full-time (100%) position as a Tutti Horn player in the horn section of the Iceland Symphony Orchestra, which consists of five horn players in total. Salary and benefits are subject to wage agreements between the association of ISO players and the Ministry of Finance. A university-level education in instrumental performance is required. Applicants from outside the European Economic Area (EEA) need to apply for a work permit, which is subject to approval by the Association of Icelandic Musicians (FÍH) and the Directorate of Immigration.

About the Orchestra

Founded in 1950, the Iceland Symphony Orchestra is the national orchestra of Iceland. The Iceland Symphony Orchestra employs 88 permanent musicians. The orchestra has, for years, been at the forefront of orchestras in the Nordic countries and has

Indrykningsdato

05.11.2025

Ansøgningsfrist

10.01.2026

Virksomhedsnavn

Iceland Symphony Orchestra

Lokation

Reykjavík, Island

Fagområde

Musik / Sang / Lyd

Navn på kontaktperson

Iceland Symphony Orchestra

Søgstilling

<https://www.musicalchairs.info/jobs/>

received high praise in reviews for its recordings as well as concerts at home and abroad. The orchestra holds about 100 concerts every year, including subscription concerts with world-renowned conductors and soloists. We are also proud of our ambitious educational work. Each year thousands of students from elementary to secondary level attend concerts.