INFORMATION ABOUT NORRLANDSOPERAN

Norrlandsoperan is the world's northernmost opera house yet only one hours' flight from Stockholm. The four stages in the house offer a range of concerts, opera, dance, theatre and festivals and is one of the most modern opera houses in Europe, arranging hundreds of different events a year. As a member of Norrlandsoperan Symphony Orchestra you will work in a creative environment where 47 full time employed musicians play an important role and form the core of Norrlandsoperan's artistic development and drive. Symphonic concerts, opera and chamber music drive your hunger and enthusiasm as a musician at Norrlandsoperan. The orchestra also tours regularly in the north of Sweden.

Norrlandsoperan Symphony Orchestra appears live on radio and regularly makes radio and CD recordings. Norrlandsoperan is owned by Region Västerbotten and the municipality of Umeå. Norrlandsoperan's mission is to produce, promote, strengthen, and develop symphonic repertoire, opera, musical theater, music, dance, performance, and arts in the region. Norrlandsoperan was founded in 1974, during the years we have developed from a regional chamber ensemble to a performing arts house with a regional mission and extremely broad operational base.

The new opera hall and concert hall was inaugurated in the spring of 2002 and within our house we also have Elektra - bistro, bar and dining.
