

Violinist with chamber music ensemble - Musikkselskapet Nordvegen

From 1 August 2022, Munor needs a stand-in for the first chair violin on a full-time basis, initially for 12 months.

Munor is the employer of the Munor Ensemble, a well-established chamber music group founded in 1981 and comprised of 4 experienced musicians. The quartet is currently 2 violinists, one cellist and one pianist, with a primary focus on the piano trio. The ensemble's main area of interest and core competence is classical chamber music. However, they also dabble in many other genres over the course of a year.

The position will primarily be as first chair violinist but there may also be opportunities for solo performances and teaching (limited to 30%), and also as concertmaster for the Nord-Rogaland Symphony Orchestra/Harald Hårfagre Chamber Orchestra.

The position also comes with a number of planning-related responsibilities. We are looking for a violinist with a high level of technical prowess on their instrument, natural chamber music leadership qualities, excellent overview of the music scene, instrumental diversity, good ability to cooperate, and personal aptitude for and interest in helping to develop the local music scene.

The successful candidate will ideally have formal education in both their instrument and in teaching, but this is not a requirement.
