

Alto

Alto position on 60% job share in Trondheim Vocal Ensemble.

Responsibilities will include, inter alia:

- the ensemble's own concert activities.
- some touring
- participation in activities and concerts in Nidaros Cathedral.
- participation in Trondheim Symphony Orchestra's opera and concert productions.
- evening and weekend work, as well as work during church holidays, including Christmas and Easter.

As an ensemble singer, you will enjoy:

- permanent employment in an exciting and challenging music environment in the city centre of Trondheim, with great opportunities for personal and artistic growth.
- predictable work load.
- a designated hall for ensemble rehearsals; Korsalen.
- access to cloakroom, shower and a canteen.
- access to rehearsal rooms around the clock.
- the opportunity to be a part of and shape an ensemble at the highest level.
- varied tasks within different genres.
- Trondheim Symphony Orchestra & Opera as a serious, organized employer.
- wages and working conditions regulated by a collective agreement between Creo and TSO.
- hybrid pension, good insurance schemes and occupational health service.

We expect:

- a high professional level; theoretically, technically and musically.
- the ability to perform on a high level with a relatively short rehearsal time.
- an extensive degree of independence in the rehearsal work.
- sufficient language ability to be able to perform a Norwegian/Nordic repertoire.
- that you make a positive contribution, musically and socially, and know what is expected as a singer in a vocal ensemble.
- that performing liturgical repertoire in the church is not an obstacle.
- that Trondheim Vocal Ensemble is your main career project.
